TORIES ROCKED BY DOUBLE RESIGNATION

EXCLUSIVE

TWO Conservative councillors at the centre of a housing row have quit.

Lee and Sarah Dangerfield, pictured, said they felt they had been “stabbed in the back” by several members of the Tory group.

Man accused of threats to police appears in court

TWO police officers were allegedly punched and threatened with a knife when they responded to reports of a domestic incident in Harlow on Monday evening.

Police were sent to a house in Spring Hills at around 8pm after receiving a telephone call telling them a man was refusing to leave the property.

According to police, the two officers were punched in the face and then threatened with a blade as they attempted to talk to the man.

It is understood two young children were inside the property with the man. Police negotiators then spoke with the man at length before the youngsters were allowed to leave the house shortly after midnight.

Around 30 minutes later a man was arrested by police and taken into custody.

● Gavin Lilly (30), of Spring Hills, appeared at Harlow Magistrates' Court yesterday (Wednesday) charged with two counts of assault against police officers causing actual bodily harm.

He was also charged with making threats to kill and criminal damage to a pair of glasses. No pleas were entered.

He was remanded in custody until a committal hearing on Monday, December 20.

We feel we've been stabbed in the back

THE Conservative group on Harlow Council has been rocked this week by the shock resignation of two Tory councillors.

Husband and wife Lee and Sarah Dangerfield stunned party colleagues by announcing they would be standing down on November 15 following a seven-year stint as ward councillors.

The couple have hit the headlines in recent months following accusations from residents and opposition councillors they had abused their positions of influence on the authority to secure a new council house for their family.

But in an exclusive interview with the Star about their decision to resign, the couple said they had also been "frozen out" by unnamed members of their own group who were unhappy with the public outcry over their move.

"We feel as though we've been stabbed in the back by people who we thought of and counted on as friends,

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

just when we needed their support the most," said Mr Dangerfield.

"I'm still a Conservative through and through and I'd like to make it clear that [council leader] Andrew Johnson has been a rock for us during a difficult time, but the way in which certain other members of the party have conducted themselves with regard to us and our personal lives has been shameful.

"An internal investigation has shown that we did absolutely nothing wrong and we had very real reasons for our move, but still certain people had it in for us.

"It would seem that certain individuals are struggling with the status and responsibilities that come with being in power rather than opposition."

A tearful Mrs Dangerfield added:

"Our personal lives have nothing to do with anyone other than ourselves, but people we thought of as close friends have gone behind our backs and that really hurts.

"You expect criticism from the opposition but when you're betrayed by members of your own party it's hard to swallow."

Despite his imminent resignation from the district council, Mr Dangerfield will continue in his role as a Conservative county councillor in what he described as the "grown-up" political arena of County Hall.

"To be honest, I've become disillusioned with the playground politics of Harlow Council," he said.

"Having now spent time with the grown-ups at County Hall, where there's none of the petty name-calling you see all the time in district council meetings, I've come to realise how childish some local councillors can be.

"I can honestly say that I have given my all to the people of Harlow in my role as a district councillor and I will continue to work tirelessly for local residents in my role at county level."

Council leader Andrew Johnson told the Star he was disappointed with the couple's decision but insisted their resignation would not reflect badly on the Conservative group.

"I would like to thank Lee and Sarah for their hard work for the Conservative Party and the people that they represented as Conservative councillors," he said.

"I don't want to comment on any alleged machinations within the Conservative group but what I will say is that Lee and Sarah's resignation won't reflect badly on the party."

The Dangerfields' resignations will not trigger by-elections as the next council elections will take place within six months.

As a result the seats will remain vacant until the elections in May 2011.

Police to get tough with firework jobs

POLICE warned this week they would take a hard line against anyone caught breaking the law by messing about with fireworks.

A campaign to highlight the dangers of fireworks was launched in Harlow by councillors and emergency services personnel. Leaflets and advice were given out in the town centre highlighting the hazards of misusing firecrackers and warning that anti-social behaviour will not be tolerated.

The annual drive, called Operation Bang Out Of Order, has been organised by the Safer Harlow Partnership.

Police will be carrying out extra patrols this weekend while Essex County Council have been carrying out inspections and test purchases at licensed firework sellers in the town.

District commander Ben Hodder said: "We want people to have fun but not to the annoyance of others. We want people, particularly young children to be safe and not to be a casualty of the celebrations.

"We will take a hard line on those who show no respect and break the law."

Service to dedicate new war memorial

A NEW memorial to members of the Armed Forces from Harlow who have lost their lives in active service since the Second World War will be unveiled this weekend.

Finishing touches are currently being put to two plinths in the Nettleswell Memorial Garden in School Lane ahead of a formal dedication ceremony on Sunday afternoon.

The commemorative stones will bear the names of local servicemen Colin Carver, Andrew Saunders, Gary Love and Robert Foster.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "There isn't currently a Harlow War Memorial, which is why we have created this new memorial, adjacent to Nettleswell Cross, to commemorate all those from Harlow who have given their lives in service since 1945.

"The Council and the Royal British Legion have undertaken detailed research and checks to ensure those who have lost their lives whilst serving in the Armed Forces are honoured on the new memorial.

"We have been in close contact with the families and on Sunday their loved ones will be honoured and forever remembered by having their names on the memorial. The community of Harlow will never forget them."

The families, representatives of the Royal British Legion, ex-service Associations, Harlow MP Rob Halfon and local councillors are all expected to attend Sunday's service, which starts at 2.30pm.

Best friends plan a fundraising ball

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

TWO women touched by cancer are organising a fundraising ball for a local charity which supports people with the disease.

Laura Moorcroft (31) was diagnosed with cervical cancer four years ago but after completing gruelling courses of radiotherapy and chemotherapy she was told the disease had gone into remission.

But then came the devastating news that Neil Barnes (37), the husband of her best friend Carrie (33), had been diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma.

"It felt like cancer was following us around," said Laura. "They had supported me throughout my illness and then it was time for me to be there for them. It was a horrible period in our lives."

Carrie added: "I couldn't fight the cancer for Neil and Laura. All I could do was trust the doctors and remain positive for them. "The only thing I knew for sure was that I wanted to give something back when they were better. I wanted other people to benefit from the support and treatment that Neil and Laura were lucky enough to receive."

Fortunately Neil is now also in remission and Laura and Carrie have organised a Great British Ball at Down Hall Country House Hotel in Hatfield Heath, where Laura is an events co-ordinator.

The proceeds will go to the Helen Rollason Cancer Charity, which runs a support centre at the Rivers Hospital in High Wycombe.

Carrie said: "We were keen to support a charity which helps people local to our area, so Helen Rollason was perfect."

The ball will take place on March 4 next year. It will include a drinks reception, four-course meal, auction, raffle and music from tribute band The Fab Beatles.

Tickets cost £75 each or £700 for a table of 10, go on sale tomorrow (Friday) and can be obtained via www.greatbritishball.co.uk or by emailing carrie@greatbritishball.co.uk.

The pair, who both live in Sawbridgeworth, want to hear from anyone willing to donate auction and raffle prizes. Auction prizes already secured include tickets to Glorious Goodwood, golf at Stoke Park and Arsenal FC.

To donate prizes, call Laura on 07960 410195 or email laura@greatbritishball.co.uk.

Party celebrates completion of work on common room refurb

MORE than 50 residents, councillors and family members celebrated the completion of refurbishment work on the common room at a Harlow sheltered accommodation block by holding a party.

The room at Halyday House, in Broadley Road, has been redecorated with the help of donations from Brewers Paint, HR Electric, Homebase and Wilkinson. The work was completed by residents and decorators who gave up their time to help.

It is estimated the work would have cost in the region of £3,500 but the final bill came to just £60.

"The party was a really good way to celebrate our achievement," said spokesman John Thatcher. "We completed the revamp in a week. It's really great now and is being used a lot more."

Support for mouth cancer campaign

A SAWBRIDGEWORTH dental practice is offering free check-ups to coincide with Mouth Cancer Action Month.

The campaign, been organised by the British Dental Health Foundation, is being supported by the Bell Street Dental Practice which is providing free screenings to detect early signs of the disease.

Practice spokesman Dr Bertrand Napier said: "We wholly endorse the BDHF's initiative to spread the message about mouth cancer and we are delighted to be able to do our bit in getting the message out to our local community."

Early symptoms of the disease include ulcers which do not heal within three weeks, red and white patches and any unusual changes within the mouth.

A simple oral check-up can take between 5-10 minutes and is the easiest way to obtain an early diagnosis of the disease and dramatically improve survival rates.

The free oral examinations will take place every Wednesday evening during November between 5.30-8pm. No appointment is necessary.

Lions' collections

GENEROUS shoppers donated more than £600 for Macmillan Cancer Support when members of the Harlow Lions Club and other volunteers held collections outside the town's Tesco stores one day last month.

Kerry Briars, Essex fundraising manager for Macmillan, said: "This is a huge amount of money to have raised and we can not thank the Harlow Lions and volunteers enough for giving up their time to collect on behalf of Macmillan Cancer Support."

RBL country night

THE Harlow branch of Royal British Legion will be holding a country and western night tomorrow (Friday).

The fundraising event, which takes place in the Radburn Pavilion, in Radburn Close, will feature live music from Campbell's Country.

Tickets cost £4.50 and all the proceeds will go to helping those who have served their country in the Armed Forces.

For more information or to buy tickets, call Barbara on 07906 250428.

Crews mount high-rise rescue to help stranded workman

EMERGENCY teams were called to help a workman stuck more than 200ft above the ground after suffering a suspected heart attack while on a ladder.

A rapid response vehicle arrived at the premises of OI Manufacturing, in Edinburgh Way, within five minutes of the ambulance service being called last Wednesday.

Paramedics were then joined at the scene by the service's hazardous area response team and firefighters.

Duty operations manager Steve Chivers said: "The call came in that a 52-year-old man was suffering chest pains within a factory and was difficult to get to as the only access was by fixed ladders.

"Emergency medical technician Clare Mills was the first person to see the patient. She climbed up to him via the fixed ladders at a height of about 240ft where she calmed the patient and monitored him.

"The hazardous area response team then sent up two paramedics who took over patient care and sent Clare down to safety."

The patient was helped down to ground level where he was placed in the care of an ambulance crew who took him to Princess Alexandra Hospital for further assessment and treatment.

Mr Chivers added: "HART, the fire service and ambulance crews all worked well as a team. Clare showed professionalism and courage beyond the call of duty in climbing up so high with equipment to treat the patient."

Son stumped by bill for removal of tree

A POLICE officer has warned the elderly to be on their guard after workmen charged his 82-year-old mother £650 to remove a small tree in her garden.

Four men took just 20 minutes to hack down the 4ft-high conifer at the woman's Purford Green home on Friday.

Yet the elderly widow's son, who works for the Metropolitan Police but wished to remain anonymous, claimed his mother was charged up to 13 times more than the figure she was originally quoted by the company.

"When she told me how much she had been charged I couldn't believe it,"

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

he said. "I thought she had been fleeced.

"Apparently it was a 20-minute job and even for four men it doesn't justify such an extortionate amount. They didn't even remove the whole tree as she'd asked; they just cut it down to a stump."

His mother contacted the company after one of their leaflets dropped through her letterbox. "She replied to the flyer and was quoted a price of £50-£250 to remove the conifer at the front of her house," said the officer.

"The following day they came round and of course they didn't give her a receipt for the work. I believe we've lost that money now but I want to warn other people about it."

He added: "I've called the company and the manager said he would look into it. I believe it was not done with his knowledge but now he's not returning my messages."

Essex Police crime reduction officer Graham Anthony warned elderly and vulnerable residents to be wary of firms advertising their services through leaflet drops or calling uninvited.

"Many traders are honest and genuine but with the use of clever sales tactics it can be difficult to refuse some salespeople and you can be pressured into buying something that is not good value for money," he said.

"Rogue traders often target vulnerable members of the community offering household property services. Using any method to obtain as much money as possible, they will often only do the job to a poor standard or not undertake the work at all."

He added: "If work has already commenced but not been completed to a satisfactory level, contact the company in the first instance to register your complaint to establish an agreed solution.

"If you have further concerns, contact Consumer Direct who work on behalf of trading standards on 08454 040 506."

Salon staff in the pink for charity

STAFF at a Harlow salon raised nearly £350 for a breast cancer charity by dressing up in pink pyjamas.

Some 16 employees DG & Co, in West Gate, donned their bedwear throughout the day.

They also ran a raffle for customers with prizes including free cuts and treatments and collected donations from neighbouring shops.

In all they raised £346 for Cancer Research UK.

Deputy manager Tina Chandler said: "The pyjamas caused much amusement among our regular customers, especially when our manager Kaz put on his pink pyjamas.

"It was a fantastic day though with a great atmosphere and everyone had a lot of fun."

Death of man who helped start credit union

THE former chairman of Harlow's first community credit union has died at the age of 91.

Henry Edward Bird helped start the union, which provided low interest loans to its members, in 1980 before it merged with the Harlow Council Credit Union and went on to become one of the most successful organisations of its kind in the UK.

He became chairman in 1981, a position he held for 15 years during which time he oversaw its expansion.

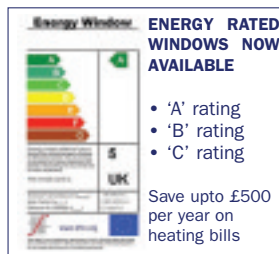

He also helped run the Playhouse Pensioners' Club for many years and organised dances for pensioners at the Ambercrombie Way Play Barn.

Mr Bird leaves a wife, Marion, to whom he had been married for 68 years, two daughters, a son, eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Bike stand blamed for crash that killed dad-of-three

A MOTORCYCLIST died when his bike side stand hit the ground and caused him to lose control and collide with an oncoming vehicle.

An inquest heard that a cut-out device designed to prevent father-of-three Matthew Sugden's bike being ridden with the stand down had been bypassed.

The inquest, held in Huntingdon on Thursday, was told that Mr Sugden, of West Road, Sawbridgeworth, had been on his way to a residential course at Madingley Hall near Cambridge on May 25 when the accident happened.

His machine was involved in a head-on collision with a Land Rover driven by James Low, who said he saw Mr Sugden coming towards him, struggling to control the motorcycle.

Another witness, David Edwards, said: "I saw something hanging down and then I saw the side stand hit the ground."

Collision investigator PC David Paul said there was a 48-metre long scrape on the ground where the side stand hit the road. The stand would have prevented the rider leaning sufficiently to negotiate the bend.

He said a cut-out device which prevented the bike from being driven with the stand down had been disconnected.

He said it was possible Mr Sugden may have stopped at a nearby lay-by and forgotten to put the side stand up when he rode off.

Coroner Sam Bass recorded a verdict of accidental death on Mr Sugden, who died from multiple injuries.

Stop turning our school into rubbish tip

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PUPILS fed up with having rubbish dumped in the grounds of their primary school are telling litterbugs to clean up their act.

A popular 'wild area' regularly used by youngsters at Paringdon Junior is continually despoiled by inconsiderate passers-by tossing their litter – including broken bottles and empty beer cans – over the school fence.

With the school groundskeepers fighting a losing battle to keep the area clean and safe, young members of the school council have decided to take matters into their own hands by raising awareness of the problem.

Headteacher Rose Pepper told the Star: "Members of the school council decided enough was enough and are now trying to make people aware of the inconvenience and upset caused by people throwing their litter into the school's wild area."

"The school grounds back on to an alleyway leading to the Peterswood estate and it would seem that some people would rather throw their empty bottles, cans and other rubbish over the fence than bin them. "Aside from the continual hassle it causes our groundsman, it's making it dangerous for the children."

Pupils have been racking their brains to come up with ways of tackling the problem and are planning to distribute leaflets to nearby homes urging residents to think carefully before using the school grounds as a rubbish tip.

They also plan to contact environmental health officers at Harlow Council to ask what the authority can do to stop persistent offenders.

Ms Pepper added: "The children are so concerned they have even offered to start picking up the litter themselves, but why should they be expected to clean up after inconsiderate litterbugs?"

"Hopefully when people realise the scale of the problem they'll think twice before throwing their litter over the fence."

Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment working group, said: "I think it is really encouraging that children are raising awareness of this issue and are taking pride in their local area."

"We can help by taking action against anyone who litters or dumps rubbish in this area but we really need eyewitness information."

He added: "A community safety enforcement officer will also be visiting the area to investigate if any of the materials dumped lead us to who has put the rubbish there."

Mum denies she left daughter (14) to live in squalor

A WOMAN accused of leaving her 14-year-old daughter to live alone at their rubbish-strewn home in Harlow for six months has gone on trial for child cruelty.

Jurors at Chelmsford Crown Court were shown a DVD recording of the squalor in the four-bedroom property where the girl was said to have been left by her mother.

Prosecutor Andrew Jackson told the jury: "It's a compelling case of wilful neglect of a child by her mother. She left her in conditions that were almost beyond comprehension."

The 54-year-old woman – who cannot be named for legal reasons – denies a charge of

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

cruelty towards a person under 16 between November 1, 2008 and July 25, 2009 through wilful neglect causing unnecessary suffering.

Her daughter was said to have shown a "noticeable transformation" since being moved to a new address in Canvey Island.

Police discovered the girl was living alone after visiting the house because of concerns about her safety and welfare. "The house was in a poor state of repair from the outside," said Mr Jackson. "They knocked on the door without response and after they lifted the letter box it produced a pretty disgusting smell."

He said accumulated rubbish was strewn along the hallway while a sitting room with a television was also covered in litter.

Showing jurors footage of the kitchen, he added: "The fridge didn't work, work surfaces were piled high with rubbish and food and the washing machine didn't work. A cooker was inaccessible."

The court heard that when interviewed by police the woman blamed her daughter for the squalor, describing her as "messy."

She claimed to have visited the house three days before the footage was shot to give her money to buy food and pay her bus fares, but was later said to have admitted she had neglected her daughter "to a certain extent".

The girl claimed she had been living in the squalid conditions for six months and had not opened the door because she knew her mother was in financial trouble and feared a visit from the bailiffs.

The mother, who had attended accountancy courses at the University of East London and Middlesex University, was eventually located after inquiries were made by a homeless centre where she had stayed for two weeks.

The court heard she obtained grants and bursaries worth thousands of pounds between 2006 and 2009, some by claiming she was homeless.

The case continues.

Teenager assaulted on cycle path

A TEENAGE girl was assaulted as she walked along a cycle track off Howard Way, Harlow, on Monday.

Police say the attack took place at about around 5.30pm and have launched an appeal for witnesses.

They want to hear from anyone who was in the area between 5.15pm and 6pm and who may have saw the 16-year-old victim being closely followed by a group of five men.

In particular they want to speak to a man on a bicycle who stopped at the entrance to the track before riding off.

Anyone with information is asked to contact Harlow CID on 0300 333 444.

Cash boost for training project

YOUNG people in Harlow will be reaching for the skies after a training project in the town received an £8,000 grant from Stansted Airport's community fund.

The Green Light Trust will use the cash to develop a scheme at Passmores School and Technology College, in Tendring Road. The initiative aims to enhance the self-esteem and opportunities of young people through environmental training opportunities.

Half the amount has been handed over with the rest pledged subject to the project continuing next year.

Trust chief executive, Nigel Hughes, said: "The positive and inspiring impact of our work on the young men at Passmores was a delight to behold. "This partnership has enabled young people to truly connect with nature and will undoubtedly have a lasting effect. "We now have even more funding to enable us to start working with more young people from Harlow, which is great news."

This is money which can be used to help them, for example, pay for powered wheelchairs which they otherwise would not have or to enable them to pay for transport to help them get out or to help their family come to see them.

It is a relatively modest but nonetheless vital payment which has given tens of thousands of people some degree of individual independence and it is now going to be taken away from them. Not frozen or even reduced – taken away. Every penny of it.

No matter what might be the case with the cuts package as a whole, this is a cut too far, targeted at people who should be able to expect better. It is profoundly shameful.

I have, of course, written to Mr Halfon about this, asking him what he is planning to do to try to reverse this cut before it takes effect. I find it hard to believe that he actually supports it but the absence of any indication that he disagrees with it in your coverage of the cuts in this last week's Star seems to suggest that this is the case.

There are some issues that go beyond politics and some decisions that can serve to define politicians permanently. They are never forgotten.

Kevin McGrath
Heronswood, Harlow

Ordinary people will suffer

SIR, They say we're all in it together, but are we?

My understanding of the cuts is that police, firefighters, Armed Forces personnel and civil servants will be having their pay and pensions frozen while hundreds of thousands of public sector workers will be made redundant so the Treasury can save money.

Apparently they can all then be re-employed by the private sector where, according to the bright young millionaires running our country, there are thousands of jobs.

Yet in one particular department of state, salaries and pensions are not being frozen. They are allowed to have as many outside jobs as they wish and are handed thousands of pounds a year in expenses. They are the people who sit on the green leather benches in the House of Commons.

One of the other proposals by the 'we're all in it together' mob is that council house tenants should pay the market value in rent and not have a subsidy paid by the taxpayer. Yet MPs are winning and dining in the House of Commons at ridiculously low prices, all subsidised by the taxpayer.

So are we all in it together or doesn't the ruination of the financial system by the greedy bankers affect them? Is it just the ordinary people who have to suffer?

When you are as wealthy as the members of the Government, you have no idea how ordinary people live.

Les Coben
Rectory Wood, Harlow

Prayer vigil won't help us

SIR, Rev. Martin Harris seems to think that the voluntary sector can make a difference in Harlow by holding a prayer vigil (Letters, October 28).

Apart from making those involved feel better, I can't think what possible benefit this will have. The voluntary sector does do much good work and surely the focus should be on positive action. Holding a prayer vigil is not positive action.

The Reverend is part of 'Churches Working Together for Harlow'. I would much rather see an inclusive 'Everybody Working Together for Harlow' organisation.

Name and address supplied - Editor

Give us a vote on Europe

SIR, Your headline 'Halfon loses fight for cut in Europe budget' (Star, October 21) signified defeat whereas I think it should be heralded as a success story for the people of Harlow.

Robert Halfon has gone on record saying he would put

Can we afford 'free' bonfire night party?

SIR, As someone who has enjoyed the annual Harlow Council firework display each November for the past 25 years, I find it amazing that it will be sending up taxpayers money into the sky when it is having to make cuts due to the Government's spending review.

Surely this year the money would be better spent on keeping jobs or services.

B. Hood
Brockles Mead, Harlow

SIR, How much money is being spent on another free bonfire night in light of the draconian cuts being imposed on the people of Harlow?

Perhaps its part of our MP's 'Robin Hood' budget that the money has come from the rich of Harlow to give the poor another free bonfire night.

R.E. Budd
Hull Grove, Harlow

the interests of his constituents before party loyalties. In this vote on the European budget he did just that. How refreshing and how courageous. Well done Mr Halfon.

The reason it was worth making this stand is that, at a time when we are all required to tighten our belts, the European Parliament proposes increasing its budget by six per cent. That seemingly small increase will cost Britain, which is one of the largest net contributors to the EU budget, an extra £900m.

You can be sure that the main budget recipients will resist spending cuts so it's a fallacy to think our Government can curtail EU extravagance. There are too many other vested interests.

Another fallacy is the notion that we can control immigration policy in the UK. EU citizens are free to move here and when transitional arrangements expire by 2013 we can expect another massive surge in EU immigration. This is because Bulgaria has announced plans to give passports to 500,000 non-EU citizens. Similar passport schemes have been launched in Hungary and Romania.

These passport holders will have the same rights to live and work in Britain as you and me and there will be nothing the Government can do to control the numbers coming here other than increase taxes to meet the attendant social costs. And in time Turkey's full membership of the EU will massively exacerbate the social strain on this country. This is not racism or extremism, it's a straightforward consequence of the EU's enlargement policy.

Despite repeated promises of a referendum, no-one under the age of 53 has had the opportunity to vote on Europe and those that did were asked to vote for a 'Common Market'. We were told it was a trading arrangement that wouldn't compromise British sovereignty yet today around three-quarters of our laws emanate from Brussels.

Yet there is a ray of hope. The Government has proposed in its Parliamentary Reform Bill that any petition which secures 100,000 signatures within one year will be eligible for formal debate in the House of Commons. The petition with the most signatures will enable members of the public to table a bill to be voted on in Parliament.

Independent MEP Nikki Sinclair is sponsoring a cross-party petition calling for a referendum on the EU. There may not be another opportunity to have a say on the most significant political decision of your lifetime so please obtain a petition form and ask your family, friends and neighbours to join you in signing it.

Students take 'strike' action in grants row

By CORREY FACCINI
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

BRITAIN is facing up to some of the biggest cuts to its public services in a generation and across Europe workers are already on strike over jobs and pensions.

While in this country we have yet to see much in the way of civil unrest in response to the Government's Comprehensive Spending Review, there is no doubt the future for many is not as rosy as it once was.

So with this in mind we thought it would be timely to take a look back at a strike in Harlow nearly 30 years ago.

Back in March 1982 students at Harlow College boycotted lectures for a day in a dispute over grants.

There had been week-long protests over a government decision not to increase Local Authority Discretionary Grants. The matter was not resolved and the dispute came to a head when students chose to boycott their lectures in protest.

Although the students were not asked by their union to walk out many still did and joined a group of protestors standing at the front entrance to the college.

The president of the college union, Intzar Hussein, told the Star at the time: "I know of a number of students who are only getting a few pounds a week to live on."

The National Union of Students claimed it was the third successive year that the value of the grants has been cut.

There were organised walkouts from universities and colleges throughout the country.

The students pictured in the grainy newspaper cutting above were collecting signatures for a petition against the decision to increase the grants by just four per cent when the rate of inflation was running at 12 per cent.

DO YOU REMEMBER: Harlow Playscheme

A FEW weeks ago we asked if any readers could remember the playscheme that provided fun for Harlow youngsters in the 1960s.

The article was inspired by memories of Maggie Felstead who worked on the project for several years. Her daughter, Linda Collier, sent in newspaper cuttings about the scheme.

Now former town resident Shirley Thompson, whose mother Molly Pampling also worked on the scheme, has contacted us after the name rang bells with her.

"I don't really remember Maggie but I knew about her from mum," she told Nostalgia after tracking down this photo.

It shows Molly standing fourth from the left with Maggie next to her.

"It shows also two more helpers who I can recall mum talking about but not their names unfortunately. I'm not sure of the exact year either."

Shirley now lives in Braintree. Can you put names to the faces? If so, write to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email them to daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WIN Pair of tickets to a top West End musical

TRACIE Bennett, the Olivier Award winning star of Hairspray returns to the West End stage as Judy Garland in Peter Quilter's End of the Rainbow.

Directed by the multi-celebrated award winning Terry Johnson, End of the Rainbow has received glowing reviews and nightly standing ovations during its pre-London run.

This week we are giving you the chance to win one of five pairs of tickets to this fantastic show, which opens at the Trafalgar Studios later this month.

It's December 1968 and Judy Garland is about to make her comeback. In a London hotel room with her young new fiancé at her side, Garland battles with a tornado of drugs and alcohol as she undertakes an exhausting series of concerts at the Talk of the Town to try and reclaim her crown as the greatest talent of her generation.

Despite a series of failed marriages and a wrecked Hollywood career, Judy remains a tough, compelling, remarkable woman always armed to the teeth with her legendary razor-sharp wit.

With a breathtaking performance by Tracie Bennett, supported by a six-piece onstage band, the production features some of Garland's most memorable songs including The Man That Got Away, Come Rain or Come Shine,

The Trolley Song, and, of course, Somewhere Over The Rainbow.

For your chance to win a pair of tickets, answer the simple question in the coupon below and post it to: End of the Rainbow Competition, PO Box 268, Cambridge CB24 6HF, to arrive no later than November 10, 2010.

Alternatively, you can enter via the dedicated competition link on our website www.harlowstar.co.uk.

Be sure to enter 'End of the Rainbow Competition' in the competition name line or your entry will be discounted. Usual Star rules apply.

Memorial wall honours heroes of North Weald

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A NEW memorial honouring those who lost their lives while stationed at North Weald Airfield during the Battle of Britain was unveiled on Sunday.

Veterans were joined by Armed Forces personnel, local dignitaries and members of the public at the ceremony which was timed to coincide with the 70th anniversary of the end of the battle.

Rev Trevor Thorpe led the tributes to the 41 pilots and 19 ground staff killed during the German air onslaught of 1940. Three surviving RAF veterans then joined Epping Forest Council chairman Anne Grigg to unveil the new memorial wall.

RAF serviceman Joel Diggle gave a talk on the airfield's role in the defence of British airspace before the day was capped off by a military re-enactment and flypast.

Arthur Moreton, vice president of the North Weald Airfield Museum, said afterwards: "It was a highly emotive day for everyone attending."

"It was very moving to see veterans standing side-by-side with current Armed Forces personnel to remember those who have lost their lives in the service of their country."

"I took great encouragement from the fact that so many young members of the public also turned out to pay their respects. It's so important we never forget the sacrifices made by those brave men and women."

Do something Santastic this Christmas

Santa Fun Run

SANTA RUN SUPPORTERS: Day therapy team members Jackie Penhallow, Beth Burton, Emily Stowe, Jennie Beehan and Shelley Leigh

CHRISTMAS is a time of giving. And what better way to celebrate than giving your time and energy to helping a local worthy cause?

St Clare Hospice will be holding its fundraising Santa Run in Harlow Town Park on Sunday, December 12 and wants as many people as possible to take part.

And after last week's official launch, the entries are already starting to pour in.

The success of last year's inaugural run, which raised £7,300 for the hospice, has persuaded the St Clare fundraising team to repeat the exercise. And once again the Star will be supporting the event.

Some of the money raised from last year's Santa Run was used to employ a part-time occupational therapist and a part-time physiotherapist for the day therapy team, as well as extend therapeutic services.

Beth Burton, day therapy and creative living team manager, said: "We have increased the number of places available each week from 36 to 48 so more local people can benefit from what we do here.

"The environment is warm and bright, designed to be comfortable and like a home away from home. Although patients in the day therapy unit only come for a few hours each week, it can make a huge difference.

"We offer creative workshops where patients can express how they are feeling through pictures they paint, creative writing or discussion. We run hair and beauty sessions which are about making patients feel special."

This year the hospice will also be holding a Santa Run in Bishop's Stortford and it is hoped that both events will raise £15,000 towards the £2.3m the hospice needs so that it can continue providing care free of charge to patients and their families.

More than 200 people took part in last year's run, dressing up in Father Christmas costumes to run the 4km course around the Town Park.

"It was fantastic to see so many Santas dash off around the park," said Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare. "Motorists driving past couldn't believe what they were seeing!"

This year it is hoped that more than 300 people will sign up to take part in the run, which starts from the Town Park Showground near Pets Corner at 11am. Children will receive a free Santa hat when they sign up while adults will receive a full Santa suit.

You don't even have to run if you don't want to. Last year some people jogged round while others completed the course at walking pace – accompanied by their dogs!

Registration costs £15 for adults (16 and over) and £5 for children. Children under 15 years old must sign up with an adult. All you have to do to register to take part in the Santa Run is visit the hospice website at stclarehospice.org.uk and click on the homepage link or call (01279) 773750.

Alternatively, you can complete the form above and send it to FREEPOST RRLY-EZLX-YJLK, St Clare Hospice, Stone Barton, Hastingwood Road, Hastingwood, Harlow CM17 9JX to receive a registration form.

Work starts on improvements to hospital's radiology unit

THE privacy of patients attending the radiology unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital will be improved following a complete overhaul of facilities.

A 20-week building project is now under way to provide single sex waiting areas for people requiring an X-ray.

The first phase of the work will see the replacement of portable cabins used by medical secretaries with a permanent structure.

A new out-patient area with additional recovery beds will then be added to the existing radiology department.

Radiology operations manager Julie Matthews said: "The redesign will improve flow of patients through the department.

"The larger recovery area will increase our capacity for day cases as well as offer a more suitably dignified environment for our patients."

The work will be carried out on weekends or when the unit is closed in the evenings so patients will not be disturbed.

Project manager Clive Austin added: "Although we are working with the department to ensure any disruption to patients is kept to a minimum, we would like to apologise in advance for any inconvenience which may be caused."

Purse snatched from handbag

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a turquoise purse containing cash and photos was stolen from a woman's handbag in Terminus Street.

The thief struck while the victim was using the public toilets at around 10.30am last Tuesday.

Anyone with any information is asked to contact police on 0300 333 4444.

The day I became a fixer

WITH the number of young people currently out of work and on the dole approaching 750,000, three Harlow College students took it upon themselves to launch an innovative speed-mentoring scheme helping youngsters find their perfect job match.

With help from youth charity ITV Fixers, Sahar Khatiri (18), Rikki Farnsworth (17) and Katie Clark (17) came up with the idea for a series of speed-dating style careers workshops bringing mentors and young people together.

Here Sahar, who is currently on a work experience placement with the Star, reveals how a chance encounter led her to becoming involved in the project - and how she hopes her story will inspire other youngsters to pursue their dreams.

By SAHAR KHATIRI

LUCK became my best friend on September 30 this year when I inadvertently walked in on a meeting being held in the office of Harlow College's learner involvement co-ordinator Jerry Thomas.

Fortunately Jerry's face lit up when he saw me. "Sahar," he exclaimed, "just the person I was hoping for!" Feeling rather embarrassed but nevertheless intrigued, I was offered a seat.

I had never heard of ITV Fixers but I was then introduced to research team members Rosie and Josh Beattie, who explained how the organisation was a charity that gave young people aged from 16-25 a voice in the media, helping them tackle social problems preventing youngsters from fulfilling their full potential.

Soon the discussion turned to the issues facing young people in Harlow - including homelessness, drug abuse and unemployment - and before I knew it I'd agreed to take part in a project aiming to assist youths in improving their chances of employment. We felt that if people had real motivation to shape their future, their hopes and aspirations would improve considerably.

Later that week I carried out some independent research into ITV Fixers and their past work. It was so inspiring to discover some of the fantastic projects they had completed and the number of young lives they had helped to change.

The sheer variety of events they had helped stage was incredible, from dance-off events to raise awareness of epilepsy to campaign adverts highlighting the harsh realities of street violence.

When the Fixers team then offered me a position as head organiser of a similar event involving Harlow College students Rikki Farnsworth and Katie Clark, I didn't hesitate.

Coming up with the idea of a speed-dating style networking event for college students, we decided to enlist the help of Tim Campbell, a former winner of BBC show The Apprentice, and our local newspaper, the Harlow Star, to help deliver the project.

When I then found out the whole event would be filmed for a short documentary to be broadcast on ITV News two weeks later, initial nerves soon turned to excitement. I realised this would provide the perfect opportunity not only to help youngsters with employment advice but also to channel hope into the viewers that change is within their grasp.

Our objective as young fixers was to try to get as many of our fellow students as possible on board as we only had about 20 days until filming began.

The time flew by and then the day arrived. We took the train to central London and met Tim Campbell under the London Eye. After boarding a cabin, our interview soon began. With a film crew recording it all, it was quite a surreal experience.

Our questions were based around young people and employment, inquiring into the importance of work experience, the current economic crises, the best way to deal with competition and how to make yourself stand out from the crowd.

The second part of our journey brought us back to Harlow and into the offices of the Star, where I interviewed news editor Chris Moss about the current employment situation in Harlow and asked him for advice on pursuing my ambition of becoming a journalist.

He then surprised me by offering me work experience on the paper, something for which I am very thankful.

The final part of a hectic day's filming was the speed-mentoring event itself with our fellow students, Tim Campbell and representatives from local firms.

Groups of between six and eight students had five minutes on each table of experts before switching to the next in order to gain the advice of all employers. After this, Tim gave an inspiring speech highlighting the importance of self-motivation and hard work in achieving success.

Feeding off the student's reactions and the buzz that was filling the room, I came to the conclusion it had been a fantastically successful event, one that would provide the template for similar workshops in the future.

Isn't it amazing what a chance encounter can lead to?

● The story behind the students' Fix will be broadcast tonight (Thursday) as part of the ITV regional news summary at 6pm.

RONALD FRY

25.6.37 to 9.11.09
My darling Husband Ron.

*I remember the day I met you, and the day
God made you mine. I remember the day God took you, and will to the end of time.
We made our vows together,
until death do we part.
But, the day God took you from me,
My whole world fell apart.
A million times I've needed you,
A million times I've cried
if love could have saved you darling,
you never would have died.
Rest In Peace my sweetheart
Your ever loving Wife, Jean.*

To a dear and wonderful Dad & Grandad.
*God saw you getting tired,
When a cure was not to be.
So be closed his arms around you,
and whispered "come to me".
You did not deserve what you went through and so he gave you rest.
Gods garden must be beautiful for he only takes the best.
Love you always,
Rest In Peace Dad, Grandad, Great Grandad.

Halfon in call for 'bill of rights' on internet privacy

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has started a national debate on internet privacy after criticising search engine Google for copying and storing web users' private information without their permission.

Mr Halfon criticised the American firm for accessing private unprotected wireless networks and copying saved emails, webpages and passwords when piecing together its controversial Street View project in 2008.

The revelation has already prompted a police investigation and Mr Halfon raised the issue when he opened a debate on internet privacy in the House of Commons.

During the debate he called for an internet bill of rights after voicing concern about Google's street mapping, its accessing of individuals' personal wi-fi addresses and the "harvesting" of personal email addresses and passwords.

"I have a huge belief in the power of the internet to do good and potentially be a force for democratic development, allowing citizen power at its best," he told the Star this week. "However, I think that there is a great difference between advancement of the internet and violating people's right to privacy.

He added: "It is actually private companies who seem to have acquired the right to photograph what goes on in people's gardens. That is a very dangerous shift because if no-one has any right to privacy, we will soon be living with a privatised version of Big Brother run by some internet companies."

In response, business minister Ed Vaizey has pledged to bring forward new proposals to ensure any similar projects adhered to strict privacy guidelines and said he would meet with internet service providers and internet companies to propose a new mediation service to help those whose privacy has been breached seek redress.

Sculpture workshop at museum is child's play

YOUNGSTERS used cardboard and a dash of artistic license to recreate some of the town's most recognisable sculptures during a workshop at the Museum of Harlow on Saturday.

They constructed mini versions of their favourite statues with the help of Essex artist Nicola Burrell and some pictures of the works dotted around the town.

The event, organised by the Friends of Harlow Sculpture with support from Harlow Renaissance, was the first of several planned to celebrate Harlow's Sculpture Town status.

The aim was to encourage youngsters to look at and appreciate sculpture while also giving them their own mini-masterpieces to take home.

Nicola Bowland, communications manager for Harlow Renaissance, said the workshop had been a tremendous success.

"It proved very popular with a wide range of ages creating some great masterpieces. Many were inspired by the museum, the sculptures or made up purely from their imaginations," she said.

BUSY BEES NURSERY: Tots at the nursery in The Greenway, Harlow, enjoyed the thrills and chills of a Halloween party on Friday. The children dressed up as ghouls, ghosts and witches to enjoy a fun-packed day of pumpkin-carving, scary songs, devilish dancing and tasty treats.

Nursery manager Kim Shinn said: "The children all put a lot of effort into their costumes. We had witches, skeletons, ghosts and ghouls and they all looked fantastic.

"Everyone had a great time carving scary pumpkins, dancing and playing spooky Halloween games. It was a spectacularly spooky day!"

SUNFLOWER DAY NURSERY: Youngsters ventured into the deep, dark make-believe world of classic children's book The Gruffalo at a special themed party day at the pre-school in Broadley Road, Harlow. They made masks of their favourite characters, played Gruffalo games and enjoyed some of the beast's favourite meals, including Scrambled Snake Jelly and Gruffalo Cake. They then settled down to listen to a reading of the tale, which follows a mouse who must use all his cunning to avoid being eaten by other animals living in the deep, dark wood.

Deputy nursery nurse Bernadette Ashby said: "The Gruffalo is one of those classic books that all children really enjoy so we thought a themed party would be the ideal way for them to explore the story in more detail. "Everyone had loads of fun playing games, singing songs and making masks, and the themed food brought in by the children was fantastic. It almost looked too good to eat!"

IDA NURSERY: There were some spooky goings-on when children at the nursery in High Wych Road, High Wych, enjoyed a Halloween fun day.

The youngsters dressed up to bob for apples and enjoy a morning of messy play before being joined by their parents to carve pumpkins. And after having worked up a wicked appetite, they then tucked into a fabulous feast which included such delicacies as witches' fingers, slime and worms.

Nursery manager Stacey Hawkins said: "The children all had a fantastic day of Halloween fun with their mums and dads.

"They create some really scary-looking pumpkins and enjoyed bobbing for apples and playing spooky games... and I think the parents had just as much fun as their little ones!"

How dolphins can sleep with one eye open

WE all take sleep for granted, but have you ever wondered how some of the creatures that live in the sea take a nap?

Dolphins – like humans – are mammals and despite spending most of their time underwater they have to breathe air to survive. Normally this isn't a problem because they can hold their breath for a lot longer than we can, but what happens when they get tired and need to have a little doze? Dolphins have to be conscious to breathe and this means they cannot go into a deep sleep otherwise they would suffocate. But they have solved this problem by allowing one half of their brain to go sleep while the other half stays awake, leaving one eye open. Dolphins rest this way on and off throughout the day, switching which side of the brain they shut down. During these periods everything inside the dolphin slows down, and the mammal moves very little. They can sleep for up to eight hours a day in this fashion and will either swim slowly and occasionally surface to take in air, rest on the surface with their blowhole exposed or lie in shallow water and rise to the surface occasionally to breath.

Dolphin fact file

- Dolphins can swim up to 260 metres below the surface of the ocean. However, they are mainly shallow divers as they need to reach the surface to breathe.
- Dolphins can stay up to 15 minutes under water. They only do this some times as they usually stay only a few minutes diving before reaching the surface for air.
- Dolphins use a technique called echolocation. This technique uses the same principles of a radar and it is used to find food and navigate.
- Dolphins are social beings. They live in groups and co-operate with each other for activities like getting food.
- There are 32 species of ocean dolphins and five species of river dolphins.
- Dolphins are warm-blooded. To conserve their body temperature they are surrounded by a thick layer of fat called blubber just below the skin.
- Dolphins 'talk' to each other by making a unique signature whistle that may help individual dolphins recognise each other.

Could you be this child's future?

There are a number of black and mixed parentage children in Essex who are waiting to be adopted by a loving family. We need more black adopters from all cultures who can give these children a chance of a happy life.

While Essex is particularly short of black adopters, all kinds of people can adopt, all we ask is that you can offer a secure and nurturing family environment.

>>MUSIC Legendary songstress Elkie Brooks, one of the UK's most successful and versatile singers, will raise the roof at the Playhouse tonight (Thursday). Boasting numerous hit singles, million selling albums and awards, her career has now spanned 50 years and her annual tours are a treat for old and new fans alike. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £23.

>>MUSICAL A hilarious musical that unravels the ups and downs of the modern-day suburban mating game returns to the Playhouse Studio tonight (Thursday). I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change is musical comedy at its very best, a show crammed to the brim with witty lyrics and fabulous tunes. The show runs until Saturday, performances start at 7.45pm and tickets cost from £10 (£9 concessions).

>>DRAMA Acclaimed theatre company Actors of Dionysus make a welcome return to the Playhouse tomorrow (Friday) with a unique take on raunchy Greek comedy-drama Lysistrata. Aristophanes' masterpiece follows the eponymous feisty heroine as she leads the women of Greece in their battle to deny their men sex in order to stop a bloody war. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions).

>>MUSICAL Hit touring show Beyond The Barricade returns to the Playhouse on Sunday with a stirring show packed full of faithful tributes to some of the greatest West End and Broadway showtunes, including numbers from Blood Brothers, The Lion King, Phantom Of The Opera and We Will Rock You. The performance begins at 7pm and tickets cost £21 (£19 concessions).

>>MUSICAL Award-winning Kiwi comic and Pot Noodle TV ad star Jarred Christmas brings his side-splitting, gag-packed narratives to the Playhouse Studio on Wednesday in new stand-up show, Captain Curious. The show begins at 8pm and tickets cost £14.

>>COMEDY Canadian funnyman Stewart Francis saddles up for his new stand-up show Tour De Francis at the Playhouse on Saturday. Stewart has made a name for himself in the UK through regular appearances on TV shows Mock The Week and 8 Out of 10 Cats. The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £15.

Square is the battleground for Rock Contest hopefuls

THE digital revolution may have given musicians limitless possibilities to create, record and promote their music, but with the industry reaching saturation point of next-big-things most bands have to work harder than ever to get noticed.

Step forward those tireless chaps at The Square, who for the past two-and-a-half years have sacrificed their spare time, sleep and hearing just to promote and support Harlow's flourishing live music scene.

One of the most important things to have been re-instated by owners SquareOne is the annual Rock Contest, which gives local groups and solo artists the perfect

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk platform on which to showcase their talents and build their live reputation.

The competition has proved so popular with bands and punters alike that next year's event is set to be the biggest yet, with 27 acts battling it out for the chance to win £200 of equipment from sponsors Playsomething and a coveted spot on the bill at music festival Rock In The Priory.

The contest will also have a new co-ordinator in Rob Scatchard – frontman in local band Papa Shango – who will take the reins from the weary hands of the SquareOne team.

"I really wanted to help out because the guys at The Square have already done so much for live music in Harlow and they deserve a break," he told the Star. "I've had first-hand experience as a contestant in the Rock Contest and I know exactly how useful it can be to get you noticed as a band."

"You're playing to audiences who most of the time won't have heard your music or seen you live before, so it's a real challenge to up your game and make a lasting impression."

Rob will be jazzing up (not in the sax 'n' vibes sense) the judging panel to make each heat more dramatic, asking judges to give instant on-stage feedback to each act and a score out of 10. "We're taking the Strictly Come Dancing route!" he joked.

"I just wanted to give the evenings a little more drama and increase the sense of competition between each act. Hopefully we'll see even more impressive performances as a result."

Although the contest doesn't kick off until January 12 and will run until June, the closing date for entries is December 12. Rob added: "I'm expecting to get a lot of applications so my advice would be to get your entry in as soon as possible. Who knows, it could be the start of a glittering career."

For more information or to apply, email rockcontest@thesquareharlow.com or pick up an application form from the venue in Fourth Avenue.

Gallery showcase a gift for Christmas shoppers

FORGET the socks and novelty jumpers. A stunning new exhibition of affordable artworks will offer savvy shoppers the chance to light up Christmas for their loved ones when it opens at a Harlow art gallery today (Thursday).

Visitors to The Gallery at Parndon Mill will be able to browse a huge collection of specially selected fine art, craftwork and sculpture created by local artists, all available to buy at reasonable prices.

Present Arts will this year feature fascinating figurative ceramics by Juliette Purdy, lustrous stoneware and porcelain from Margaret Gardiner and decorative yet functional ceramics by Rosella Schembri, Marilyn Andreotti and Aila Simpson.

For the first time The Gallery will exhibit painstakingly patterned mixed media textile works by Jill Leech, while innovative works of art in glass by resident artists Karen Murphy, Ewa Wawrzyniak and Dominique Conte will also be available to purchase.

Glass will also feature prominently in resident artist Rita Lampen's collection of jewellery, while paintings and prints on offer will range from colourful abstracts by Jean Noble to detailed plant studies by Harlow artist Richard Brown.

Gallery co-ordinator Sally Anderson said: "There really is something for everyone, from works in glass and ceramics to abstract paintings and jewellery.

"It's the ideal place to come and find that extra special present for a loved one."

The exhibition runs until December 23 and admission is free.

Deadly secret of the girl next door

LOVE BITES: Kodi Smit-McPhee and Chloe Moretz in LET ME IN

new this week

LET ME IN
certificate 15 1h56m

HOLLYWOOD has an uncanny knack of turning the silk purses of world cinema into the tatty sow's ears of English language remakes.

So it is no surprise that Matt Reeves' remake of the dazzling Swedish coming-of-age story, Lat Den Ratte Komma In (Let The Right One In), has been taking flak from ardent fans of Tomas Alfredson's original film.

However, Let Me In remains faithful to the previous incarnation while making enough alternations to the story structure to merit a new adaptation for audiences averse to subtitles.

Reeves relocates his version to 1983 and an apartment complex in New Mexico where 12-year-old Owen (Kodi Smit-McPhee) lives with his mother (Cara Buono).

Bullied mercilessly at school by classmate Kenny (Dylan Minnette) and sidekicks Mark (Jimmy Pinchak) and Donald (Nicolai Dorian), Owen harbours fantasies of stabbing his tormentors with a penknife.

He also spies on the neighbours with his telescope and late one night watches with interest as a girl called Abby (Chloe Moretz) and her father (Richard Jenkins) move into the apartment next door. Unknown to Owen, Abby is a vampire.

When the latest beating from Kenny draws blood, Abby tells Owen to hit back hard – harder than he dares – and pledges her support to end the cycle of verbal and physical intimidation.

Let Me In charts the extraordinary friendship between a boy and a vampire against a backdrop of paranoia and social change in Reagan-era America.

Reeves achieves a melancholic mood through cinematographer Greig Fraser's chilly colour palette and stunning performances from Smit-McPhee and Moretz.

The director keeps his camera focused tightly on his young stars, so much so that we never see the face of Owen's mother while the comical coterie of residents from Alfredson's original version has been dispensed with almost entirely.

Instead, the writer-director adds a soundtrack and fashions of the era plus a terrific car crash filmed entirely within the vehicle as it tumbles down a grass embankment.

However, the reliance on digital effects lets the film down badly. The CGI version of Abby bears scant resemblance to the morose little girl, who has been 12 for a very long time.

certificate 15 1h35m

Expectant father Peter Highman (Robert Downey Jr) is a workaholic who keeps in touch with his pregnant wife Sarah (Michelle Monaghan) via his omnipresent mobile phone.

With her waters expected to break in only a few days, Peter prepares to fly home to make sure he is at Sarah's side for the birth.

A bag mix-up with fellow passenger Ethan Tremblay (Zach Galifianakis), an aspiring actor who carries his dog in his hand luggage, leads to both men being thrown off the flight.

In the absence of his passport or wallet, Peter reluctantly accepts a lift from Ethan and his pooch, who are travelling to Hollywood to seek fame and fortune.

JACKASS 3D
certificate 18 1h34m

Johnny Knoxville and his daredevil pals attempt another bewildering array of pratfalls that defy all common sense.

Since the joke is on the Jackass team, we can't help but laugh as these grown men set themselves up for an almighty fall by risking life and limb for our amusement. Animated duo Beavis and Butt-head introduce the mayhem which begins gently with a sequence called The High Five in which unsuspecting members of the team are walloped in the face by a giant hand.

>>still showing

>>>SAW 3D The legacy of devious serial killer Jigsaw (Tobin Bell) lives on and many of the survivors of his diabolical traps continue to be haunted by their ordeals. One of them, Bobby Dagen (Sean Patrick Flanery), has turned potential tragedy into victory with a best-selling memoir. He shares his message of hope on a book tour but one of Jigsaw's acolytes is watching Bobby, ready to test his resolve with a series of fiendish traps.

>>>BURKE AND HARE William Burke (Simon Pegg) and William Hare (Andy Serkis) learn that medical professor Dr Knox (Tom Wilkinson) will pay three pounds for a fresh cadaver to use in his anatomical demonstrations. Demand for corpses far outstrips supply and soon Burke and Hare are helping the ageing and the infirm to meet their maker a tad earlier than expected.

>>>PARANORMAL ACTIVITY 2 Kristi (Sprague Grayden) and her husband Daniel (Brian Boland) welcome baby Hunter into their home, which they share with Daniel's teenage daughter Ali (Molly Ephraim) from his first marriage. Kristi senses a dark force in the family home and while Daniel scoffs at his wife's ghost stories, Ali is excited about the prospect of a visitation.

>>>LEGEND OF THE GUARDIANS Young barn owls Soren (Jim Sturgess) and Kludd (Ryan Kwanten) are captured by sentry owls under the control of the villainous Metalbeak (Joel Edgerton) and his mate Nyra (Helen Mirren), who are putting together an army to overthrow the legendary guardians.

>>>ALPHA AND OMEGA Kate (Hayden Panettiere) is an alpha wolf who must marry another alpha to honour her father and pack leader Winston (Danny Glover). In secret, he has promised Kate to Garth (Chris Carmack), the son of Eastern pack leader Tony (Hopper) in the hope that the marriage will unite the two tribes. Kate's best friend Humphrey (Justin Long) secretly yearns for her but knows he can never declare his true feelings. When Kate and Humphrey are relocated to Sawtooth National Forest in an effort to establish a new wolf population, the friends embark on an epic road trip home.

>>>DESPICABLE ME Criminal mastermind Gru seethes with envy after new villain on the block, Vector, steals one of the ancient pyramids and replaces the monument with an inflatable. With his reputation on the line, Gru plots to steal the moon using a shrink ray gun from Vector's laboratory.

>>>RED When a gun-toting death squad razes the home of former Black Ops agent Frank Moses (Bruce Willis), he goes on the run with customer services agent Sarah (Mary-Louise Parker) and heads to Louisiana to reunite with old friend Joe Matheson (Morgan Freeman), conspiracy theorist Marvin Boggs (John Malkovich) and sniper Victoria (Helen Mirren) before unravelling the mystery of an old mission in Guatemala.

Your stars with

to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
You're going to need to take on some challenges in the next couple of months, and some of these may be more physical ones. But this can be good for you, because your ruler Mars is going to supercharge your drive to expand your horizons. You may even be drawn to a more daring kind of love life. Expect a twist of fate too this week. Call now for your love scope in full...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
You can feel a lot chattier, and this can see you reaching out to others more - whereas recently the more sensual side of your nature has seen you delight in earthy pleasures. This is not an end, but your mind needs lots of stimuli too. There is a strong chance that you'll host a gathering on or party. Not only can you have any breakthroughs you are likely to want to celebrate them with fine food and wine, and perhaps also an amorous encounter - maybe both together! You can also show a greater feistiness around cash matters. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
There is an atmosphere of co-operation - especially when Mercury and Uranus link and this is perfect to meet new friends or to pair up with one pal and do an activity or hobby together. If you have some spare money to invest, your thoughts can turn to putting it into a property, perhaps co-owning with someone else and renting it out. Call your prediction line for more news...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
If you have been investing energy in new starts your ruler Mars demands that you now see some results. However, these may not be instant, but if you do have any breakthroughs you are likely to want to celebrate them with fine food and wine, and perhaps also an amorous encounter - maybe both together! You can also show a greater feistiness around cash matters. Call for your financial scope...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Your ingenuity is enhanced, and if you can think of new ways of approaching an old thorny problem, then do. This could be linked to your health, work or organization of your home life. You will be more inclined to engage with people, perhaps even learning to work better with a rival. To capitalize on this, continue to be self-disciplined and focused on the fine detail. Call for more astral advice...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
It can be the less obvious things that happen this week which give you the greatest amount of pleasure. Walking with the wind blowing in your face, trampling leaves or snuggling up by a roaring log fire, can do wonders for your sense of self. But, there is an awakening set to unfold, and a more meditative strand will make way for a funky more up-beat phase of the year. Call now for more...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Is there part of you that has a tendency to want to save other people from themselves? If so, try to put this on hold. The person involved may benefit from going through some ups and downs. Why? It'll teach them that their actions have an outcome. If you step in, they may not see this. Looking for a seasonal job? You can be very proactive in hunting one down. Call for more news and advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
A big transformation is unfolding in your personal sphere. Express yourself and your talents and if you currently feel unfulfilled, this would be an excellent time to change this. There can also be a shift of outlook in what you need in terms of close involvements. One tie can get deeper and deeper. Or if you're single, you can be sure of the type of partner you'd like. Call for your love scope in full...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
The Quarter Moon in your zodiac sign this week could make you much more sensitive than usual. Anticipate that you can find life just a bit more emotional and don't judge yourself if you feel raw at any point. Fortunately, the go-getting energies of Mars are going to give you much more confidence in the weeks ahead. If you feel secure, a raunchier vibe can surface! Call for your love scope...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Professional development continues to be much to the fore. But then if you are passionate about volunteering or doing things in your community, the drive of Mars will help you to help others. People are also realizing that whilst you can have a great respect for tradition, there is another side of you that likes to challenge it. How and when you do, is the key though. Call for more astral advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Expect much greater interaction with the people immediately around you. There may be a family communiqué, perhaps about arrangements to meet up for a reunion or for Christmas. But you can also find yourself wanting to get a few frustrations off your chest with someone in this group. You can feel that some very personal matters need ventilating. Call your prediction line for more astral advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
You may not see yourself as being a powerful person, nor one who likes to dominate other people. But Pisces is one of the most complex of all the zodiac signs, and you are not always as gentle as people believe. In fact, your ego is going to be very healthily enhanced over the next couple of months. But will it get so bloated it ends up getting out of control? Call now for more advice...

The marque of a true supercar

By Matt Joy

THIS is where it all began. It still seems like yesterday, but back in 2003 the epic Vanquish V12 disappeared from the price lists, and in doing so it signalled the end of a chapter for Aston Martin.

We were all sad to see such a genuine British supercar shuffle off, at least until we saw what replaced it. The DB9 can take a huge slice of credit for the leaps and bounds that the manufacturer has made in the past 10 years, putting it back up where it belonged.

It is fitting, then, that the DB9 gets just rewards in the form of a gentle makeover. There have been updates along the way of course, such as the option of the Touchtronic transmission and the divine Bang & Olufsen audio system, but this is the most serious upgrade the car has received in its six-year life.

A single glance will register a subtle change but not necessarily what it is. At the front there's a new bumper with a slicker air intake and new headlight surrounds, along with new 20-inch alloys, silver brake callipers and clear rear light lenses.

But the fact that so little has changed proves the inherent

FACTfile

Aston Martin DB9

£122,445

Engine: 6.0-litre petrol unit producing 470bhp
Transmission: Six-speed manual driving the rear wheels
Performance: Maximum speed 190mph / 0-62mph 4.6 seconds
Economy: 18.2mpg
CO2 Rating: 368g/km

rightness of the original design. Despite no longer being the new kid in town, the DB9 is still a magnificently beautiful car; it has grace and enormous presence and seeing one on the road is never anything less than a treat.

Inside it is business class as usual. High quality materials are used throughout, while the layout is familiar. It may take a little while to fathom the minutiae of the DB9's systems but then this is a proper GT car that has many strings to its bow. Cabin comfort comes as standard, with sports seats that offer support in the corners without inducing aches over long periods.

All these are static improvements, however, and what matters more is the major mechanical change. All DB9s including the drop-top Volante now adopt the Adaptive Damping System already fitted to the DBS, offering both Normal and Sport modes depending on the driver's mood and the conditions, helping to maximise the performance of the chassis as well as tailoring the car's performance as required.

Out on the road the difference between the two settings is marked. In Normal mode the DB9 does what it is already very good at – soothing the worst of the road imperfections away without ever allowing body roll or cornering performance to become an issue.

But then you punch the Sport button and there is a clear stiffening of the sinews and a less filtered transmission of the road surface to the driver. Bumpy roads won't go unnoticed for sure, but neither will the genuine excellence of the DB9's chassis.

In Sport mode you can exploit every last shred of grip, feel the strength in the chassis and the impressive communication that comes as a result. This is a Grand Tourer that thinks nothing of devouring a B-road for fun and never feels short of ability or dynamism.

It also remains an epically fast car. In the ever-escalating world of power outputs – not least its siblings in the shape of the more punchy and lighter V12 Vantage and the biblically-powerful One-77 hypercar – it's easy to think that the 470bhp V12 in the DB9 is somehow average. But one extended tread of accelerator pedal into the carpet will put paid to that.

Choose third gear for the best effect and from 2,000rpm there is a deep, hearty growl as the 6.0-litre unit goes to work. By 4,000rpm it's really shifting and once past the 6k mark and honing in on the red line the scenery will be a blur, grins will be worn from ear-to-ear and the noise coming from the quad exhausts is worthy of a Spitfire fly-by.

In this rarefied field a sense of occasion is everything. Every journey needs to be one to savour and even the dullest trips should be brightened by the car's sheer personality.

The DB9 manages this without breaking sweat and yet it demands little from the driver, allowing it to perform the role of a true GT car. The best news about this series of revisions is that it means the Aston Martin DB9 will be around for a good few years to come.

GATES MAZDA EXCLUSIVE MOTABILITY INFORMATION DAY AT THE WATER GARDENS, HARLOW

Win prizes, enjoy exclusive deals and meet our Motability experts

Gates Mazda are holding an information day on Thursday 4th November dedicated to Motability and packed with chances to win prizes so you can learn first-hand, more about the leading car scheme for disabled people.

Available exclusively at the event will be the chance to take advantage of special offers on the Mazda range. On hand will be Motability Specialists from Gates Mazda to offer advice on getting a new car and to explain how a car can be modified to suit individual mobility requirements.

Simon Pitts, Sales Manager at Gates Mazda commented: "The Gates Mazda Motability information day promises to be a great occasion to learn more about leasing a car through Motability and highlight some fantastic deals to make getting on the road even easier. We're really looking forward to welcoming people in Harlow to join in the fun and take advantage of the free information, advice and expertise on offer."

On show for the very first time will be the upgraded Mazda2 supermini. Simon continues "following on from the huge success of the previous Mazda2, we are very excited to be unveiling the upgraded model with enhanced environmental performance and improved safety features".

Motability offers anyone who receives the Higher Rate Mobility Component of the Disability Living Allowance, or the War Pensioners' Mobility Supplement – currently around £50 per week – the opportunity to exchange this allowance as a simple monthly payment to Motability for a new car.

The Gates Mazda Motability information day takes place on 4th November 2010 between 9am and 4pm at the Water Gardens, Harlow. The event will offer free information and advice on leasing a car through Motability to anyone who thinks they might be eligible.

For more information call Gates Mazda on 01279 715313 or visit www.gates.co.uk.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer
your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Assistant Bursar

A new position in this successful, expanding school, to include day-to-day and line management responsibilities, with elements of finance, premises, transport and health & safety management. Specific responsibilities will depend on the strengths of the successful applicant. Full time, term time only (37 hours per week, 40 weeks per year). Salary is payable pro rata on Hay Scale Grade H5 (20-23) plus fringe allowance. Applicants should be flexible, have appropriate qualifications and/or experience, and be able to work on their own initiative in a busy team environment. Closing date: 12 November 2010.

Learning Support Assistant

We require a part-time Learning Support Assistant from 1 January 2011 – 31 August 2011 to support students with a variety of special needs in Key Stage 3 and Key Stage 4 (Year 7 to Year 11). The post is temporary because it relies on external funding. It is possible that the post will continue beyond August 2011 if funding continues. The post is for 20 hours per week during school term-time only, Monday to Thursday plus an unpaid lunch break. Salary is payable pro rata on Hay Scale 2 (points 11-14) starting at point 11, (full time equivalent salary £15,288 including London Fringe Allowance and holiday pay). Members of the Learning Support Department work with all curriculum areas within the school, so the successful applicant must be flexible, able to work well as part of a team and to communicate effectively with all levels of staff and pupils in a busy school environment. Closing date: 15 November 2010.

St Mary's Catholic School is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people, and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. A CRB disclosure is required for all successful applicants.

An application form and further details can be found at www.stmarys.net in the staff section. Only applications on the school application form can be considered. St Mary's is committed to the equality of opportunity for all applicants.

Trio on trial at Northampton

THREE Harlow Rugby Club U-16 players have been picked to go for a trial with Premiership rugby club Northampton Saints.

Centre Kurtis Knightley, hooker Daniel Bailey and flanker Tom Bircham were picked out after impressing a Saints scout when the Rams defeated a Colchester team in a friendly last month.

Meanwhile, Harlow U-16 defeated close rivals Upper Clapton 26-5 at home in a friendly.

Harlow went ahead when James O'Hanlon scored a try converted by Matt Norris.

Knightley scored an unconverted try to give Harlow a 12-0 half-time lead.

The second half saw Knightley score a second try and Norris went over under the posts for a touch down.

Norris kicked both conversions.

A strong first-half performance provided the springboard for Harlow Colts' 28-10 home win over Stevenage.

The Rams fielded a makeshift pack for Sunday's friendly.

Harlow took an early 6-0 lead through two Dave Briggshaw penalties before prop Jamie Alden scored his first try of the season.

Briggshaw kicked the conversion.

Jordan Dunn, Norris and Jordan Judge scored second-half tries.

Briggshaw added one conversion.

Alexandra the great!

THREE superb goalline clearances from Alex Figg helped secure a valuable point for promotion-chasing Harlow Ladies in the Essex Women's Hockey League.

Harlow drew 1-1 at Old Loughtonians III on Saturday.

Harlow's scorer was Georgina Esterhuysen, but player-of-the-match was Figg by a long way.

Team spokeswoman Sonya Amos, who missed the game, added: "We drew 1-1 so kept our run of only one defeat in seven games and still within touching distance of the top teams."

In the East Men's Hockey League division 4SE, Harlow secured a crucial 2-1 home win against Wapping IV but remain in the bottom three.

Jamie in 12th

JAMIE Rushworth had an outstanding run to come 12th in the U-13 boys race at the Essex Cross Country League event at Colchester on Saturday.

The Harlow Athletic club member completed the 3.3km race in 12 mins, 20 secs.

This was after he led the pack in the early stages of the race.

Lewis Harknett was in 20th place in 12.45 in the same race.

Harlow AC equalled their team result from the first match at Chelmsford with 6th place overall.

Other Harlow AC results: U-13 boys race - Joe Bailey 33rd (13.49); Christian Barker 34th (13.50); Owen Haigue 41st (15.03).

U-15 girls 4km race: Isobel Moss (14th, 14.50).

Welsh Open on target for James

Shooting

SHOOTING star James Huckle continued his phenomenal form by winning two events at the Welsh Open last weekend as the season starts to wind down.

With scores of 590 and 594, a personal best, the quadruple medallist at last month's Commonwealth Games in India, secured wins in the open section and aggregate cup (10m air rifle category).

The Old Harlow-based 20 year-old - who won two silver and two bronze medals at the games in Delhi - is now focusing on the prestigious Surrey Open in Bisley over the weekend of November 27-28.

He will then begin what will be a pivotal seven months for him at the start of 2011.

This is when he will compete in four World Cup meetings when he will try and gain enough points to seal a place in the Great Britain squad for the Olympic Games in London.

Huckle is determined to establish himself as a world-class competitor.

Huckle, a member of United Glass Rifle Club and Romford Rifle Club, said: "I've witnessed people do it, they're just normal people like me, they've just got a bit more experience.

SUCCESS: James Huckle, second left, with his silver medal alongside team-mate Ken Parr in Delhi last month

"That's the most difficult step people find to make.

"Realistically it's simple because it's more of the same work. You have to find ways of training smarter."

It is a far cry to when he first picked up a rifle to shoot cans on land his family owned in Matching Tyne.

"When I first picked up a rifle I was completely unaware it was an Olympic sport," he said.

"Since I found out it was an Olympic sport I've been determined and motivated to get there."

Huckle will continue his campaign for a place in Team GB at World Cup meetings in Korea and Australia next year. He will head Down Under in March for one meeting.

"They're really the events I need to attend to to get a qualification place for 2012," he said. "They're vitally important to me and mean just as much as the Commonwealth Games."

He will also compete in the European Championships in February and the Inter-shoot in Den Haag, Holland, the same month. This prestigious competition will see him face the Indian shooters who pipped him to two gold medals in Delhi last month.

Huckle's success at his first Commonwealth Games comes on the back of his success in the Commonwealth Youth Games in India a year ago, plus his starring role at the European Championships in the summer.

Huckle collected his Delhi medals in the 50m rifle three positions, 50m rifle three positions pairs, 10m air rifle and 10m air rifle pairs (with Ken Parr).

Great start in Founders Cup for Hawks

Harlow Hawks 72, University of East Anglia 57

Basketball, National Founders Cup

East Region group game

IT was hard fought but Harlow Hawks did enough to start their National Founders Cup campaign with a victory.

There was a crowd of almost 100 for Saturday's game which saw Panthers start better.

Hawks then settled and the Niaz brothers (Shab and Zaf) hit a pair of long-range efforts and then it turned into the Simon Atkinson show for the last four minutes of the period where he added 10 points.

Hawks had a brief blip when their passes became sloppy, resulting in easy scores for the Panthers. Despite this lapse in concentration Hawks ended the quarter up 20-15.

Luke Atkinson got the second period under way with a strong move inside but the Panthers then out-scored the Hawks.

Shab Niaz stepped up and hit three three-pointers and with another two coming from Girts Strikauskis this kept the scoreboard moving. But Panthers clawed their way back and it was 37-37 at the halfway stage.

The third period was key as Hawks outscored the visitors 17-7.

Hawks' defence was strong while everybody did well in attack. Even Nick Moss, who was returning from a knee injury, scored with his first touch of the ball.

The hosts were 54-44 ahead going into the last quarter.

Shab Niaz again provided most of the

IN FORM: Simon Atkinson, top left, in action against the Panthers, had a great game points early on. Hawks managed to keep the Panthers at arms' length for the rest of the way to the final buzzer.

The last two minutes became very scrappy as Panthers decided to foul the Hawks at every opportunity.

Each foul resulted in a trip to the foul line for Hawks, with Dave Spashett and Luke Atkinson showing great composure to close out the game.

Coach Niaz said: "It's a good start, we generally played well and that is the best that I have seen Simon [Atkinson] play so far this season. "The team executed much better as a unit, which is positive as we have a couple of big games coming up this week in this competition. If we perform to the level that we did for most of this game then we will give ourselves a great chance in progressing in this cup."

HARLOW HAWKS: S. Niaz (23pts), S. Atkinson (12), L. Atkinson (11), Strikauskis (8), Spashett (6), Rimantas Norkelinas (4), Z. Niaz (3), Moss (3), Allan (2), Burgess, Lemmings.

Success makes boxer Eastern Counties champ

HARLOW ABC light-welterweight Juris Varuskins became the Eastern Counties champion when he defeated Marcus Mylozus (Wisbech ABC).

The 21-year-old boxer, from Collins Meadow, was up against an opponent who had a three-inch height and reach advantage.

The very close fought contest at the Focus Club in Peterborough on Saturday ended with the pugilist from Latvia getting a majority decision.

Mylozus carried his hands low and kept switching from south-paw to orthodox and back again, trying to confuse the Harlow boxer.

However, Varuskins followed the advice of his corner to push forward and stay close.

Varuskins' fast hands and hooks connected with Mylozus' jaw to make life uncomfortable for the Cambridgeshire boxer.

Varuskins gained the verdict at the end of three brutal rounds.

Harlow ABC spokesman Paul Allen said: "He [Varuskins] is very dedicated and deserves it. He has done brilliantly."

Varuskins' win means he is due to fight as the Eastern Champion in the regional finals which are to be held at Hutton Community Centre in Brentwood on November 20.

That is the same day he is due to arrive back from a family visit in Latvia.

Allen explained: "At the moment he is due to come back to Stansted Airport at 5.30pm, so that's a bit tight. He is trying to get it changed."

Broughton first in league opener

ALAN Broughton was the first Harlow Running Club member to finish in the first round of a cross country league covering West Essex and East Herts.

He was third in the five-mile race held at Ware which also saw teams from Bishop's Stortford, Saffron Walden and Ware compete.

He was followed home by Jamie Jephcott (10th) and Steve Mackenzie (13th).

Dionne Jones was the first Harlow woman, in 9th place, closely followed by Sharon Wright (11th) and Katie Herrington (13th).

In the team event, Harlow's men were second and the ladies were fourth.

Overall Harlow came third. Other Harlow RC results: Men - 22nd Marc Lowers; 23rd John Tennant; 24th David Ayling; 25th Rick Ricketts; 26th Andy Sims; 32nd Terry Ridge; 33rd John Evans; 38th Pasquale Pellecchia; 39th Jon Steadman; 44th Matt Jones; 46th Ryan Johnson; 47th John Bull; 51st Jamie Luck; 52nd David Croly; 57th Graham Saville; 58th Graham Pugh; 71st Ron Newton; 77th Ron Luck. Ladies: 20th Claire Williams; 26th Wendy Spring; 27th Toni Ridge; 29th Linda Selby; 32nd Katharine Jones; 37th Karen Moir.

● KATIE Herrington and David Ayling finished the very hilly off road Beachy Head Marathon on the South Downs in the same time of 4hrs 23min. They were in 212nd and 213th place respectively from 875 runners.

They were followed home by Alison Rayman in a personal best time for the distance of 5:24. Janice Page (5:29) and David Page (5:32) also competed.

Hawks No.1 scoops award

HAWKS keeper Rhys Madden scooped the Safe Hands award for October.

The 22-year-old Harlow Town custodian was not beaten in the entire month as Kevin Warren's men kept a series of clean sheets in Ryman League division one north.

Warren said: "I'm very pleased for the lad. He deserves it and there is also credit for the whole of the back five."

"Credit goes to Rhys and to keeper's coach Steve Wallduck, who keeps the keepers on their toes and encourages them."

Warren is also buoyant about Harlow's prospects after being drawn to face Ryman League premier division side Maidstone at home in the third qualifying round of the FA Trophy on November 20.

Harlow, who play in step 4 in the non-League football pyramid, have already knocked out two teams from step 3 (Bedford Town and Carshalton Athletic) in this year's competition.

"If we play like we did against Carshalton we can cause an upset. We will have them [Maidstone] watched," he added.

Canons Brook team triumphs in charity day

A TEAM of lady golfers from Canons Brook Golf Club produced a brilliant display to triumph at a competition at Rochford Hundred GC.

The trio of former lady captain Rosemarie Earl, Diane Randall and Ann Clark secured the victory for the Harlow club in Rochford's ladies charity day.

Ninety players competed from 25 different clubs.

At Canons Brook, Paul Johnson won the flag competition when his ball finished 2ft from the flag on the first green.

Kevin Willacy finished on the first green to grab second place from Andy Nicol.

Meanwhile, the Elizabeth Way club has said goodbye to assistant professional James West after 12 years' loyal service.

Head pro Alan McGinn explained: "Due to the continued uncertainty over his future at the club with the restructuring of the pro shop he has accepted a job with the Easy Way Golf Academies. He will be splitting his time between Heydon Grange Golf Club, just outside of Royston and at Old Joes Golf Range in Sudbury.

"I am sure the members will join me in wishing him all the best for the future and thank him for all his hard work at Canons Brook Golf Club."

Stars shine at GB Superleague extravaganza

Table tennis

THREE internationals including a former Commonwealth Games gold medalist were at the heart of the action as the Harlow-based BATTS table tennis club hosted the British Superleague play-off finals for the first time.

Gareth Herbert, who struck gold with playing partner Andrew Baggaley at the Commonwealth Games in Manchester in 2002, was among the cream of the sport who competed at the BATTS centre in Old Harlow on Friday.

The English international was joined by Nigeria international Kazeen Adisa Adekeke and Scotland's Gavin Ramsay at the competition.

Darius Knight took the Superleague title after a night of thrilling table tennis action at the Norman Booth Leisure Centre in Elderfield.

The England No.4 seed Knight (seeded second on the night) walked away with a cheque for £300 after beating fellow Barrow Table Tennis Club British League player and Scotland No.1 Gavin Rumgay in the final 11-13, 11-7, 11-8, 11-4.

The final did not finish until well after midnight and it says a lot for the excitement that this event generated such a crowd that a sizeable audience stayed to watch. There were shocks galore.

England No.7 lady Lauren Spink featured in the biggest upset of the evening when she played superbly to oust Scotland international Niall Cameron. She won a spell-binding game 11-5, 12-14, 12-10, 7-11, 14-12.

She then took a 2-1 lead against third seed Adisa Adekeke and an even bigger shock appeared on the cards.

Spink eventually succumbed 9-11, 11-6, 11-9, 7-11, 4-11.

The Nigerian eventually missed out to Knight in a close semi-final (12-14, 8-11, 9-11), further proof – if any was needed – of just how well Spink played.

The story of the top half of the draw was the ease with which Herbert had cruised through to the semi-final.

He wasn't stretched in the slightest, powering his way past Zayd Mauthoor (11-2, 11-4, 11-3), Martin Kubrt (11-2, 11-5, 11-8) and Tommy Cutler (11-5, 11-3, 11-5).

Here he met Gavin Rumgay who had looked far less comfortable after he had been extended by John Dennison (11-9, 9-11, 11-7, 11-6), Costas Papanoniou (11-8, 11-8, 11-9) and Neil Charles (7-11, 15-13, 11-4, 13-11).

But Rumgay caused a huge upset as he served with confidence, conviction and panache to edge home 11-9, 11-9, 14-12.

Other results that caught the eye included a fine four-game win for Neil Charles over Emran Hussain (11-7, 12-10, 8-11, 11-

2) as well as a hard-fought success for Tommy Cutler against Zak Zilesnick (14-12, 12-10, 12-10).

Anthony Kent impressed by beating the elder statesman of the event – Paul Beck (6-11, 11-4, 6-11, 11-6, 11-8), while Zayd Mauthoor did well to beat the higher-ranked Didier Ngoma 6-11, 11-8, 17-15, 11-9. Niall Cameron's loss to Lauren Spink pitted him against Eli Baraty.

Niall again missed out by an agonising two points in the fifth game.

Eli won a nail-biting encounter 11-7, 8-11, 8-11, 11-9, 14-12.

Dave Langham excelled by beating Didier Ngoma 9-11, 11-6, 4-11, 11-4, 11-8.

Mark Richard Smith edged Tom Hughes in a marathon match 11-8, 12-10, 11-13, 9-11, 11-9.

Hughes came equally close against Christopher Bush before losing 11-6, 6-11, 13-11, 9-11, 11-13.

There was never much in it between Martin Kubrt and Costas Papanoniou. Papanoniou eventually scraped home 11-6, 4-11, 12-10, 7-11, 11-9.

Ben's a hat-trick hero but Vipers show bite

Youth football

A SUPERB hat-trick from Ben Willis secured a 3-3 draw for Summers Vipers U-9 after a terrific encounter against Epping Youth.

Vipers are still looking for their first West Essex & East Herts League win this season and were desperately unlucky not to have secured that on Sunday, having led 2-0 at half-time.

Two excellent finishes from Ben gave them a healthy lead as the hosts, playing uphill, dominated.

Epping pulled a goal back soon after the re-start but Vipers went 3-1 up when striker Willis completed his treble.

A rather harsh penalty for handball made it 3-2, while at the other end Vipers were denied by a series of excellent saves from the Epping keeper.

Vipers were then stung when Epping made it 3-3.

Player-of-the-match Ben was denied a couple more goals and one shot was superbly tipped onto the bar by the Epping keeper.

Daniel Wood and Kain Waterfield also went close but Vipers could not find the winner that their efforts deserved.

Champions humbled

Darts

CHAMPIONS White Admiral suffered a heavy 5-1 loss to current Harlow & District Premier Darts League leaders Servo Link in the first round of the Team Knockout Cup.

Staple Tye Colts beat TwoPoundAPint 5-2.

There were three 180s in this match.

One signs and one ponders switch

HAWKS boss Kevin Warren should find out today (Thursday) whether he has signed Cheshunt forward Chris Meikle.

Warren watched Meikle score against Harlow in the Championship Manager Cup this season.

If he signs he could be facing his old team Cheshunt this Saturday rather than playing for them!

The two teams meet at Barrows Farm in a Ryman division one north match.

Speaking yesterday, Warren told the Star: "We have spoken to the player [after putting in a seven-day approach last week] and he was flattered that we are interested in him.

"There are complications with his work. We should find out in the next 24 hours as to whether we bring him in or not."

Meanwhile, ex-Ware midfielder Joe Stevens has joined the Hawks from Brentwood Town, ironically whom Harlow play in another league match at home next Tuesday.

Warren said: "He has played about three reserve games and has done well.

"He brings a lot of energy and work rate. He understands that the squad is big and is prepared to wait for his chance."

Warren hopes to have Leon Hunter (groin) back for Harlow's home clash against Cheshunt but fellow midfielder Danny Brown (rib injury) is doubtful.

Warren said: "Leon should be available this Saturday but Danny is touch and go."

Harlow are in second and Warren is confident his team can remain among the leaders.

"Cheshunt will come fully committed, looking to upset us. It's a home game and if we perform like we can, we should get three points," said Warren.

"Brentwood have done very well in the FA Cup and this will be a tough one."

Utility player Mark Taylor is still ruled out with a thigh injury, while left sided utility player Sam Taylor has started training again.

He has had a successful double hernia operation and Warren thinks he could be about four weeks away from any first team football.

then punished when Luke Wade crashed over for an unconverted try in the corner.

Becles scored again when the ball was moved wide, resulting in Josh Rayner touching down.

The conversion was kicked by Wade and the visitors led 12-7.

In the closing minutes of the half Harlow conceded two more tries.

The first came after bad defence preceded Wade touching down an unconverted try.

Then a well set up move by the Becles back row ended with the ball being kicked on and Ben Veasey-Lark won the race to touch down.

The conversion was kicked and Harlow trailed 24-7 at the break.

In the second half, Rams back Simon Vanbeck came close to scoring before the Essex side reduced the deficit from a well-taken try by Scott Romaine following a set line-out move.

The conversion was just missed by Dobson.

Shortly after, from a five-metre scrum Paul Eynon brushed off an attempted tackle by one defender before ploughing over for a try.

Dobson kicked the conversion and Harlow trailed 24-19.

On 70 minutes, Becles' Stuart Murray kicked a penalty for 27-19.

Five minutes later, the Rams reduced the deficit with a Dobson penalty.

This was enough to secure Harlow a bonus point for not losing by more than seven points.

Scouting for goals

Reading scout eyes slick Hawks in upset

A SCOUT from Coca-Cola Championship side Reading watched the Hawks cause an upset in the FA Trophy after a superb display against Carshalton Athletic.

Along with the scout, Carshalton advisor Lennie Lawrence – the former Charlton Athletic and Cardiff City boss – will have been impressed with the performance of Harlow Town on Saturday at Barrows Farm.

Lawrence even told Hawks chairman John Barnett his side should have been six goals ahead at half-time, such was Harlow's dominance.

Hawks boss Kevin Warren had left out midfielders Danny Brown and Leon Hunter, who had injuries.

But the hosts were out of the blocks quickly and Clark Akers' wonderful volley was inches wide on seven minutes.

have known that in the first 45 minutes and Harlow took the lead on 16 minutes.

Sacha Opinel's neat ball to the left side of the box was finished superbly into the top right by Che Stadhart.

It was the striker's first goal since September 4!

Harlow doubled their lead six minutes later when Steve Ferguson's 20-yard shot was saved before Akers tucked in the rebound.

On 25 minutes, Robins keeper Craig Ross made a brilliant point-blank save from Stadhart.

Moments later, Stadhart went very close again, before Carshalton broke quickly after a mix-up in the home defence. Anthony Joseph had only Hawks keeper Rhys Madden to beat but blazed wide with the goal at his mercy.

Akers was inches away from grabbing a second before Harlow struck the woodwork on the half-hour mark. Ferguson's dangerous right-wing cross found Harlow skipper Leo Roget who hit a powerful volley against the bar.

Madden made a great save from Gary Noel six minutes before the break.

Carshalton were stronger after the break and Madden was called on twice early on, but made great saves from Carshalton's ex-Bishop's Stortford striker Lloyd Blackman (shot) and then former Hawks centre-half David Obaze (header).

Obaze ended a miserable afternoon on his return to Barrows Farm with a yellow card for a nasty foul on Akers on 57 minutes which prompted an early exit for the impressive Harlow youngster.

There were few chances in the last half hour as Harlow defended well to secure a second scalp in this competition, following the win over Zamaretto premier division Bedford in the previous round.

Warren said: "We played the best we have done this season in the first half and could have been 5-0 up at half-time. We won every tackle and second ball. We did a professional job in the second half."

Premier division leaders Alemite in goal feast

PREMIER division leaders Alemite Athletic went goal crazy as they hammered hosts Bircham 11-2.

Dean McAteer scored a hat-trick for the visitors, whose tally was boosted by goals from Shane Bartram (2), Scott Poole (2), Niall Boland (2), Gavin Cockman and Ricky Cooke.

all-rounder.

However, McNally has been enticed by the offer of coaching and working alongside former Warwickshire wicket-keeper and head coach Keith Piper.

McNally said: "Harlow have been fantastic but the new job gives me 20 hours a week to go and coach in schools and requires me to play at Ware.

"It was better than Harlow which was just Saturday. It's a great opportunity and it will be teaching boys cricket in schools and after-school clubs. It might lead to coaching at county level."

McNally has also been tasked with getting women's cricket off the ground at the Hertfordshire club.

For Butler, there would be a great chance to learn from Piper who was one of the best exponents of 'keeping on the county circuit in the 1990s.

Harlow Cricket Club president Alan Howick was sad to see the trio go, but is aware that there is more player movement at club level than there used to be.

"It's getting a bit like football. When I heard about it I was gutted and I wish them all the best," he said.

"Jason McNally had a professional approach and did a good job, while James Butler did a lot of work for the club and put in some good performances."

He added: "The other chap [Ahmed Khawaja] is just chasing the dollar. He was a very good cricketer."

Young seam bowler Luke Heskett has been appointed captain.

Howick said that one positive was that former Essex quick bowler Andrew McGarry was keen to remain at the club.

Skipper and duo quit

HARLOW Cricket Club have been rocked after three high-profile players quit the club including skipper Jason McNally.

McNally has left to join Ware who have been promoted into division five of the Saracens Herts League.

His remit at Ware also involves coaching. Wicket-keeper James Butler, McNally's predecessor as captain, is also thought to be close to joining him at Ware.

The third player to leave is star batsman Ahmed Khawaja. He scored more than 1,000 runs last season.

He also took plenty of wickets with his spinners. It is unknown where he will move to.

McNally almost led Harlow to promotion from division two of the Shepherd Neame Essex League last season. The side were ultimately thwarted by bad weather which cost them valuable points.

The move will mean a lower standard of cricket for McNally, who is an outstanding Wonder Warren!

Praise for Hawks rookie boss from club chairman as he eyes Conference climb

By ALAN SCOTT

HAWKS chairman John Barnett has paid tribute to manager Kevin Warren – while admitting he is delighted his club are well on target for the 'five-year plan' of reaching the Blue Square Premier.

Harlow Town went top of the Ryman division one north last week with a convincing victory at home to AFC Sudbury.

Although Needham Market took advantage of the Hawks not being in action to replace them as leaders last weekend, it has still been a fantastic start to the season considering the club were bottom last campaign.

Harlow have already accrued nine more points (24) than they did in the whole of last season!

Barnett, a partner in Hawks owners Platinum Sports Management, admitted he has already pumped an incredible amount of cash into the football club – and will continue to do so to achieve the dream of three promotions.

"Our goals remain the same: to win promotion this season and to be playing Conference premier division football in five years' time," he said.

Barnett has been hugely impressed with the way Warren has managed the club.

The 31-year-old former Leyton Orient apprentice has led the side to four successive wins – and clean sheets – in the league, plus two FA Trophy victories in the last six weeks.

Barnett said: "Everyone knows Kevin is a genuinely nice guy, but that should not disguise the fact that he possesses a ruthless streak when it comes to winning; Kevin is passionate about this club doing well."

"At the start of the season we gave him free rein to strengthen the squad and bring in players as he saw fit – and he's done that.

"Tom [Cunningham]'s confidence and faith in Kevin's abilities as a manager have been more than justified by our current standing in the league.

"If you wanted a gauge of how far this club has come in such a short space of time, you only have to look at the calibre of player we are now attracting. Players want to come here – they want to be part of Harlow Town FC."

Platinum Sports Management took over the club in February when it was threatened with administration and had debts of nearly £300,000.

It was only a year ago that the club had to postpone a match when an electric generator – used after the power supplier cut the stadium off for unpaid bills – broke down and Barrows Farm was left in darkness.

The ground is a very different place now.

And Barnett wants to take the club further, with successive promotions being the tip of the iceberg. "I can assure you that we will not sit back or rest on our laurels just because we are top of the league," he said.

And the chairman is urging more people from Harlow to start attending matches. He hopes to get the average gate up to 500 this season and then 1,000 when the club are playing in the Ryman premier next season.

Writing in Saturday's matchday programme, he commented: "We are a fantastic club with a stadium to match and there's no reason why we can't achieve those figures."

Rams lose to bottom side

THE Rams paid dearly for a terrible period in the first half when they lost at home to basement side Beccles.

Saturday presented a golden chance for Harlow to post their second win of the season.

But after conceding four tries in a period of little more than 15 minutes before half-time, they left themselves with too big a task in the second period.

Harlow started well and went ahead when a good break by Rob Mackie saw him take a clean pass and touch down for a try.

Dobson kicked the conversion and the visitors led 7-0.

The next 15 minutes was mainly midfield dominated, but showed that the Suffolk side had one or two players with real speed who would be a danger if the first-time tackles failed.
